DETAILED ACTION

The rejections under section 112, second paragraph is withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendments and remarks.

The prior art rejection is maintained and repeated below. Applicant's remarks in connection with this ground of rejection are also addressed:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 2 and 4-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 9506408, as evidenced by counterpart U.S. Patent No. 5,672,568 to Huer et al. (Huer) in view of Aberg, Swedish J. agric. Res. 1973, 3, 49 (Aberg).

WO 408 describes the use of specific esters of 2-(4-chloro-2-methylphenoxy)propionic acid for the protection of buildings, building materials and insulation compounds against root penetration. Moreover, Aberg teaches that in herbicidal applications in crop protection where 2-(4-chloro-2-methylphenoxy)propionic acid is employed, the R-(+) isomer is markedly more effective than the S-(-) isomer or the racemic mixture. Accordingly, the R-form of the recited compounds is known and the prior art provides sufficient motivation for its isolation and use in protecting buildings from root damage.

Applicant argues that the applied references fail to teach or suggest polyethylene glycol esters of (+) MCPP acid, or their use in herbicidal applications. However, the polyethylene glycol ester is known, based on Heuer. In this regard, Aberg teaches that the (+) isomer of MCPP is more effective, therefore, strongly suggesting the (+) isomer of MCPP esters, since Aberg teaches that this isomer of MCPP derivatives, including the polyethylene glycol esters of Heuer, is herbicidally effective.

The double patenting rejection remains outstanding:

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 2 and 4-14 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 of U.S. Patent No. 5675032. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because:

The conflicting claims recite the instant reaction (claim 1 of conflicting patent).

The conflicting claims recite the instant compounds (claim 6 of conflicting patent). see MPEP 804 "the analysis employed in an obviousness-type double patenting determination parallels the guidelines for a 35 USC 103 rejection". In this regard, the recited esters invariably include the instant R-form.

The conflicting claims recite the instant methods of use (claim 7 of the conflicting patent).

The conflicting claims recite the instant methods of use (claim 8 of the conflicting patent).

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
